Took a Long...Time!

For new CCKC members Tim and Sherri Vaitekunas, that First Time took a LONG TIME. Here is their story...

Take 1–December 1986: Chevrolet was advertising real discounts on in-stock Corvettes. A slick red one in a local showroom daily beckoned Tim with her siren song. The discount was deep...but not his wallet! So long!

Take 2–October 1989: Neighbor with a two tone dark blue and silver beauty was getting the car ready for winter storage in his parents' barn. When he said he was selling it in the spring, Tim made a quick sale! Done deal!...Not! A rising river flooded the barn and totaled the car!

Take 3–November 1999: TEN YEARS later opportunity knocks again. A business acquaintance was moving to Florida WITHOUT his completely original 1967 coupe! Price right: check. Delivery logistics: complicated but doable. Problem: A 1997 Plymouth Prowler Tim had been pining for became available the same day. He couldn't buy both. Bye Bye Corvette. 0 for 3!

Take 4–(Eureka!) August 2017: Tim and wife Sherri loved the C7 and searched everywhere they traveled. A stick was a must and yellow was preferred and there it was a 2016 with low miles! Twenty years and four shots later, the Vaitekunas finally have their Corvette and look forward to sharing good times at CCKC!

When was the first time you saw a Corvette?

Come Fly With Me!

On blustery, cold, February 10, 2018, close to 25 CCKC MEMBERS were “cleared for approach” to the Kansas City Air Route Traffic Control Center (ARTCC) in Olathe, KS. Members were “stacked up” at security while credentials were checked. CCKC member Natasha Chappelle was our host and along with her colleagues, Mike Fox, gave a thorough and engaging presentation on how our National Air Space is guarded and controlled. It was such an interesting presentation and garnered so many questions that we ran out of time!

Of course, everyone asked about 911 and what it was like to ground every single non-military flight in the US! There were close to 4,300 flights in the air when the head of the Air Traffic Control System Command Center important factor in air safety that a NWS meteorologist is on staff in order to give controllers the critical weather data they need to guide planes through severe weather.

For some, the discussion continued over food and libations at Granite City in Olathe. Thanks to Natasha and Gwyn Hill (who coordinated the event) for an AMAZING day!

TECHSPOT 1 Wake Up Your Corvette!

It's getting time to wake up your wheels! Your Corvette! Get Your Motor Runnin' by adding a bottle of Chevron Techron fuel injection cleaner. Next check the air in your tires. Your tires might feel a little lumpy but will drive out in the next 20 miles. It won't hurt to have your battery checked if it's more than five years old.

-Chuck Levenson

OFF Road (When Your Corvette Is Not Yet Awake!)

Besides being a long time member of CCKC, I have also belonged to KCSC (Kansas City Ski Club) for over 30 years. This picture was taken on the highest peak at Steamboat—an elevation of 10,384 feet. The white spots are snowflakes falling in front of the camera lens. We had 11 inches of snow fall in 24 hours! Skiing is a great sport for Corvette owners as it gives you something to look forward to while the Corvette is in the garage on a trickle charger!

Our venue is the Metropolitan Community College Blue River Precision Driving Center. This is a multi-purpose venue used by the Metropolitan Community College to train law enforcement officers and students the vehicular control skills they will need out in the field. The portion of the site used for this event includes a 400' by 400' concrete pad for paddock and grid, and a highly configurable urban track offering a mix of concrete and asphalt surfaces. There are no curbs anywhere on site, and there is ample run-off room in case a competitor experiences an off-course excursion.

Directions to site:

- Take I-70 to Highway 291 North (Independence)
- Take 291 North about 2 miles to 23rd Street / Highway 78
- Turn right (east) on 23rd Street / Highway 78 and go east for about 2 miles to the Metropolitan Community College.
- Proceed past the College and the SPCAA east on Highway 78 about another 1/2 mile.
- At the bottom of the hill, there is a road to the right, Powell Road, that leads to the Precision Driving Center. There will be a banner marking the location visible from the highway.
